METHODS

Creating an unforgettable cup of coffee begins with selecting the beans. The three methods we use to prepare this elixir offer different results in flavor, color, texture, and mouthfeel. Coffee is a process from beginning to end; each step is as important as the next.

Method 01

HARIO V60 POUR OVER

The Hario V60 is a drip coffee brewing device known for producing a clean, crisp, and flavorful cup of coffee. It features a 60-degree conical shape, spiral grooves inside, and a single large opening at the base. This design promotes even water flow and ground coffee extraction.

Tasting Notes: Clean cup, medium body where the delicate flavors of origin stand out.

FRENCH PRESS

A French press is a manual coffee brewing device consisting of a cylindrical carafe, a plunger, and an integrated filter. It works by steeping ground coffee in hot water and pressing the plunger to separate it from the brewed coffee. This method produces a fuller-bodied, more flavorful cup than other brewing methods.

Tasting Notes: Intense cup, full body and dense texture.

SIPHON

Siphon coffee, also known as vacuum coffee, is a brewing method that uses a vacuum coffee maker to create a full-bodied, flavorful cup of coffee. The process involves heating water in a lower chamber, which then rises to mix with coffee grounds in an upper chamber. Once the heat source is removed, the brewed coffee is returned through a filter to the lower chamber, leaving the grounds behind.

Tasting Notes: Aromatic, good body and sweetness.
